

Excel for Finances and Risk Management

Aiming to endow the collaborators with tools to boost their productivity, speeding up and automating data analysis with Excel, the SBP organized the "Excel for Finances and Risk Management" seminar.

The training provided formulas to develop the ability in the participants to manage the statistical concepts used for financial decision making, assessing and quantifying risks.

Similarly, those present were instructed on state-of-the-art techniques in financial management and risk management.

The seminar took place in the institution's installations and had the participation of 32 analysts and supervisors of the Banking Supervision Directorate.
