

The Human Resources Department participates In the workshop “Nuclear Rescue”

In the search of improvement and development of the human capital, the Human Resources Department of the Superintendency of Banks of Panama participated in the workshop of “Nuclear Rescue”.

The goal of this workshop is the strengthening of the value of responsibility and commitment of the collaborators, as one of the objectives of the Department.

Through this training the Human Resources team was able to focus its level of responsibility and commitment facing each one of their objectives.