

SBP develops Values Training Plan

As part of the Institutional Values Training Plan, the Superintendency of Banks of Panama (SBP) will develop, during the month of September, the workshop seminar named “Maximize your potential, practice your values and reach your excellence”, whose main purpose is to stimulate organizational behavior based on the values adopted by this regulatory entity.

The inauguration of the values training sessions took place on September 10 with the words of the Superintendent, Eng. Olegario Barrelier, who encouraged the audience to cultivate the values, not only to become better collaborators of the institution, but also better persons.

The Values Workshop aims to strengthen the institutional values and to maximize the true potential that exists in each one of us, and thus increment our productivity and efficiency.

In these training sessions, the enablers Luisa de Padrón and Marc Garabetian of the Light Workers Center Company will endow the participants with the tools needed to start to create a work culture based on values inside and outside the institution.

The workshop named “Maximize your potential, practice your values and reach your excellence”, organized by the Directorate of Human Resources, will be imparted to all the institution’s collaborators.
